The Carrera GT was Porsche's first mid-engine supercar with a Formula 1-derived four-cam V10 unit.

This example is production number 402 of only 1270 cars ever produced worldwide, it was the former property of an ex F1 racing driver and a car we have known for several years.

Finished in a highly desirable colour combination of GT Silver Metallic over Natural Dark Grey leather interior and benefits from an incredible Porsche service history from new, with its most recent service carried out at Porsche Reading only 593 miles ago, the car has also had new PPF coverage applied.

It still retains its original handbooks including the service/warranty supplement, leather pouch, Certificate of Authenticity, spare key, roof straps, roof bags, tool kit, towing eye, tyre inflator kit, warning triangle, full luggage set, seat bolsters, Global Telemetrics security tracking system plus a very well-documented history file.
