Chassis #0892 is one of only 224 examples of the 400 GT 2+2 ever produced and it left the Lamborghini factory on the 2nd February 1967.

It spent a large proportion of its early life in California and in recent years underwent a full bare metal restoration by respected marque experts in the USA, at which time it was finished in the attractive and period correct colour combination of Grigio St Vincent over an Ochre leather interior.The car was then subsequently imported and registered in the UK.

It is a matching number example that is presented today in excellent condition throughout. It comes complete with a tool roll, jack, spare wheel and recently issued certificate of original configuration from Lamborghini Polo Storico.

A very rare early Lamborghini and a car that we consider is extremely undervalued in todays market.
