The DB AR1 was the result of a collaboration between Aston Martin and famed coachbuilder Zagato. Only 99 of these beautiful cars were ever produced, of which this is the 24th, and all were built for the United States. This example has been a U.S. car from new and is still titled and residing in that country. It is in impeccable condition throughout and still comes complete with its original owner's manual/service booklet, spare key, factory umbrellas and a comprehensive history file, which includes a note from the factory confirming its original build specification. One of the very best 'modern-day classics'!
