A dominating model in period but its dominance cut short due to regulation changes.

This particular example is known as 'Tiger Two' and its history includes 50 years of single-family ownership before forming part of the Ecclestone Grand Prix Collection in 1998, where it had resided ever since.

Believed to have been one of the Works cars which debuted at the 1931 Italian Grand Prix.

Inspected and researched by marque expert David Sewell, whose report is included within the car's dedicated history file.
