This example is one of the most sought-after â€˜D-Seriesâ€™ variants, in the ultimate specification of lightweight seats, manual gearbox, and 4.9-litre engine, as delivered from new. Still retaining its original engine, this car was previously owned by Mr William â€œBillâ€ Medcalf, former chairman of the Bentley Driversâ€™ Club, and later by his brother James, who also succeeded him as chairman over a decade ago. The car was borrowed by Bentley Motors in 2007 to create a 1/18th scale model of the R-Type Continental, a testament to how highly regarded it is.
