The Huayra is the very best interpretation of combining art with engineering, from its beautiful sculptured body made of more than 4000 components (engine and gearbox not included) to its wonderful 5980cc Mercedes-AMG engine that produces 1000nm of torque. Chassis no 007 is 1 of only 100 examples to be produced of which only 19 are right-hand drive and only 4 of those UK cars, with the majority located in Asia and North America. Optional extras include: multi-layer paint, exposed carbon fibre in gloss finish, exterior aluminium set in titanium finish, Malevic premium leather interior, rosso stitching, interior aluminium set in titanium finish, extra large seat size, 6 piece luggage set, gold anodised finished wheels, dark red brake callipers. We have known this particular car from new, with only 2,903 miles it's never sustained any accident damage and is complete with its original books, spare key, key box, silk car cover and history file. Chassis 007 also benefits from a thorough service history including its most recent service by Pagani UK in January 2019. A supercar with real heart and soul, something that can be aesthetically appreciated from every angle whilst very much at home on the open roads with its breathtaking
