The 765LT is the latest series production supercar produced by McLaren. It is without doubt that this latest limited edition stays true to McLaren's DNA with its clear inheritance stemming from the legendary F1 GTR Longtail 'LT' and its strong links between track and road cars, McLaren have focussed on performance and advanced technologies.

In terms of performance the car is totally breathtaking, its 4.0 litre twin-turbo V8 produces a whopping 755bhp and 800Nm of torque, a 0 to 62mph in just 2.8 seconds along with a top speed of 205mph! Additionally the engine has key components finished in a Diamond light coating taken from the P1 Supercar and a three-layer head gasket as per the McLaren Senna. While it shares some characteristics with the regular 720S the result is a car that is slightly longer, considerably lighter and intentionally more committed.

This example is car no.87 of only 765 examples ever to be produced, it is aÂ UK supplied, delivery mileage car that was
