Marking a bold step into a new segment, Ferrariâ€™s all-new Purosangue combines the Italian marqueâ€™s legendary performance and emotion with the practicality of four seats and increased ride-height. Perhaps most closely linked to the Ferrari identity are its fabled V12 engines, which were responsible for much of Maranelloâ€™s early racing successes. The Purosangue shares in this rich heritage of Ferrari evolution, with its V12 providing a completely unique performance and character profile amongst its peers. Having arrived to much anticipation, its sleek and aerodynamic design maintains Ferrari's unmistakable aesthetic, and positions the Purosangue both as a marvel of engineering and as a statement of style and exclusivity.

This particular example is a single owner, UK supplied car that has covered a mere 1,335 miles from new. It benefits from a huge list of factory optional extras and features that include; Ferrari historical paint finish, panoramic glass sun roof, special upper leather interior finish, new â€˜styleâ€™ design to seats, electric operated seats, Cavallino stitching to head rests in
