£SOLD

Mileage	70,530 miles	Engine Capacity	4200cc
Body Style	Coupe	Fuel	Petrol
Transmission	Manual	Chassis No.	0121/R

Chassis #0121/R is a very special Aston Martin DB4GT.

Delivered new in July 1960 and 1 of only 2 examples to be finished in Pale Primrose from new and the only example finished in this colour today.

Following our purchase, we entrusted the car to marque experts Spray Tec for a fresh refurbishment which included returning the car to its stunning original colour combination and at the same time taking the opportunity to ensure all the details throughout were absolutely period correct, of which very few DB4GTs are. This work was overseen and managed by noted Aston Martin Historian Stephen Archer.

What quickly became apparent throughout the works was how original of an example #0121/R is. It not only boasts its original chassis, body, engine (block and head) and gearbox but still retains its correctly numbered 45 DCOE4 carburettors.

When you consider only 75 DB4GTs were ever produced and how many of those have been heavily campaigned and modified, very few can claim the originality of this particular example.

Offered complete with its tool roll, original instruction book, workshop manual and dedicated history file which includes its original build sheet.
