Performance of Porscheâ€™s latest incarnation of the GT3 RS is breathtaking with a 0-60 mph in 3.0 seconds with an incredible 0-124mph in 10.6 seconds, a top speed of 184 mph producing some 525PS. With its lightweight stainless steel sports exhaust system ensures the most dynamic sound from its incredible 3.9 litre engine all the way up to the cars maximum 9,000rpm

The Porsche lightweight construction has been expanded further with the use of carbon fibre reinforced plastic (CFRP) to this latest model that has now a weight of just 1,450 kg. Further performance benchmarks have been created with the carâ€™s downforce and revised aerodynamics with the position of the rear wing and front diffuser that are automatically adjusted to the cars speed in split seconds with the added benefit of Porsche Active Aerodynamics (PAA) with DRS.

This particular car is a 2024 model year, UK supplied example that's finished in the stunning Shark Blue and commissioned
