The Ferrari SF90 XX Stradale is the most extreme expression of Maranelloâ€™s V8 hybrid era, a road-legal machine that draws directly from Ferrariâ€™s famed XX Programme and turns it into something you can actually drive on the road. Based on the already astonishing SF90, the XX takes everything up a level: sharper, louder, faster, and more focused, with a level of aerodynamic intent you can see from across the paddock.

Powered by a 3,990cc twin-turbocharged V8 working alongside three electric motors, the SF90 XX Stradale delivers an entirely different level of urgency to the standard car. Output is lifted from the standard SF90's circa 986 bhp to circa 1,015 bhp, with sharper calibration, a harder-edged delivery and an even more immediate response through Ferrariâ€™s rapid 8-speed dual-clutch transmission.

Visually and dynamically, the headline is aero. The SF90 XX Stradale wears a fixed rear wing, the first fitted to a road-going Ferrari since the F50 and pairs it with radical aerodynamic solutions developed with the XX cars, delivering an astonishing 530 kg of downforce at 155 mph. Itâ€™s not decoration; itâ€™s a statement of intent and it transforms the way the car feels at speed, giving huge stability and confidence when you start pushing hard.

Produced as a limited series of just 799 units worldwide, itâ€™s not simply a faster SF90, itâ€™s a collectible modern Ferrari that blends hybrid hypercar pace with genuine track-bred aero and drama, wrapped in one of the most striking silhouettes Ferrari has put on the road in decades.

This car is a UK supplied, single-owner example that was specified with the following factory options and features that include: iconic special paint finish, two-tone bodywork, livery in orange, carbon fibre racing seats, carbon fibre dashboard air vents, carbon fibre luggage compartment side walls, carbon fibre dashboard insert stripes, carbon fibre rear interior finishing, carbon fibre rear bench, carbon fibre interior rear view mirror surround, seat piping in flash orange, seat inserts in flash orange Alcantara, Cavallino stitching to headrests in flash orange, carbon fibre-black leather steering wheel with stitching in flash orange and LEDs, interior stitching throughout in flash orange, leather passenger compartment accents, lower zone in black Alcantara, 4 point seat harnesses, adaptive front lighting system, suspension lifter, front and rear parking cameras, front and rear parking sensors, MY Ferrari connect, smartphone interface, carbon fibre front spoiler, carbon fibre lateral engine air intakes, carbon fibre engine compartment, carbon fibre rear spoiler, carbon fibre diffuser, carbon fibre side skirts, carbon fibre front compartment area, dreamline on exterior carbon fibre sections, Scuderia shields, matt black exhaust pipes, 20″ black gloss alloy wheels, black brake callipers and security tracker system.
