The Porsche 911 GT3 Touring represents the most discreet interpretation of Porscheâ€™s track focused icon, combining the uncompromising performance of the GT3 with a more understated and timeless aesthetic. By omitting the fixed rear wing in favour of a subtle deployable spoiler, the Touring Package delivers all of the engineering brilliance of the GT3 while preserving the classic and elegant silhouette of the 911.

Developed directly from Porscheâ€™s motorsport programme, the 992 generation GT3 introduced a double wishbone front suspension derived from the Le Mans-winning 911 RSR, alongside extensive lightweight construction and advanced aerodynamic refinement. The result is a car of extraordinary precision and driver engagement, with the Touring specification offering a purer, more traditional interpretation of Porscheâ€™s ultimate driverâ€™s 911.

At its heart lies a naturally aspirated 4.0-litre flat-six engine, paired with the highly sought-after 6-speed manual gearbox.
