The most successful McLaren chassis raced by Fernando Alonso, achieving two Grand Prix victories, five additional podium finishes and two fastest laps during the 2007 Formula One World Championship.

Race winner at the 2007 European Grand Prix at NÃ¼rburgring and the 2007 Italian Grand Prix at Monza.

Competed throughout one of the most dramatic and competitive Formula One seasons of the modern era.

One of the final Formula One cars to feature traction control, before the system was banned at the end of the 2007 season.

A complete running example of the highly acclaimed McLaren MP4-22, which is widely regarded as one of the most visually striking and aerodynamically sophisticated Formula One cars of the V8 era.
