1 of only 93 UK right-hand drive examples ever produced and still retains its original engine. Delivered new in early 1973, finished in Grand Prix White/Blue as it still wears today, factory optional extras include a heated rear window, Recaro sports seats, and electric windows. Interestingly, it was one of the very few UK cars delivered without a sunroof. A very well-known car thatâ€™s had good ownership history and is accompanied by a fantastic history file plus an original tool kit, original tyre compressor and original owners manual.
