The Porsche 911 (992.1) GT3 represented at time of launch the pinnacle of Porsche's naturally aspirated performance car philosophy, seamlessly blending motorsport derived engineering with everyday usability. Developed by the marque's renowned GT division, the 992.1 introduced a host of innovations inspired directly by the Le Mans-winning 911 RSR, most notably its double wishbone front suspension, delivering exceptional steering precision, front end grip and driver confidence. Combined with sophisticated aerodynamics and an uncompromising chassis, the result is a car widely regarded as one of the greatest driver's cars of the modern era.

Power comes from Porsche's legendary 4.0-litre naturally aspirated flat-six engine, producing 510 PS and revving to a thrilling 9,000rpm. Paired with the lightning fast 7-speed PDK transmission, the GT3 delivers seamless gear changes and race inspired performance, accelerating from 0-62 mph in just 3.4 seconds.The GT3 offers precision and usability, ensuring it remains one of the most rewarding and engaging sports cars ever to wear the Porsche crest.
