An alloy-bodied GTB/4 is the most revered and sought-after road-going 275 model. This particular example was the third of only 16 examples ever produced. Delivered new with aluminium bodywork, power windows, full leather seats, a radio and finished in the highly attractive Nocciola Metallizzato (the only alloy 4-cam finished in this colour) over Black interior. It has been subject to a recent two-year, nut-and-bolt restoration at the cost of half a million dollars, following which it was awarded its Ferrari 'Red Book' Classiche certification. Offered for sale complete with original books, pouch and original tool roll. The opportunity to purchase one of these highly regarded alloy-bodied examples does not come around often, and when you consider the collections most of the others reside in, itâ€™s a very exclusive club indeed.
