This particular 1 owner example was specified in the iconic Lark livery along with a dash in the style of the owners legendary McLaren F1. The McLaren P1 GTR is best summed up by motoring correspondent Andrew Frankel in his review for Autocar â€œWhat is the P1 GTR like? Try to imagine a car with as near to 1000bhp as makes no difference that weighs under 1400kg dry. Think of the acceleration that might result, and then be advised that this is the least interesting thing it does. This is the true measure of the P1 GTR. However extraordinary it looks, you must take my word that its shape writes no cheque that the car beneath cannot cash in full.â€ Offered for sale complete with its original flight case which includes factory supplied diagnostic equipment, racing wheels and tyres, racing exhaust and a tailored car cover. In addition, the car still retains its original owners handbooks, spare key and original factory invoice.
