The very last of the fifty-five 911 3.0 RSs ever produced. Chassis 609109 is one of the most original examples in existence, still retaining its original chassis, body and engine and was ordered new with Guards Red script and rims instead of Gold, which was a special request. It was delivered new to its first owner in May 1974 and has subsequently been owned by noted Porsche collectors, a testament to this particular examples quality. Fresh from a total restoration by marque experts and has recently been prepared to take part in the prestigious Tour Auto. An opportunity to purchase what is regarded as the ultimate Porsche RS and a car that is very eligible for some of the world's greatest motoring events including the Le Mans Classic and the Classic Endurance Racing series.
